

Contents

- About the Author ix
- About the Editor ix
- Preface x
- Acknowledgments xi

Chapter 1. Introduction 1

- Who should read this book? 1
- Why should you read this book? 1
- Why this book is different 2
- How to use this book 3
- After you read this book 6

Chapter 2. The Physician's Time 9

- Your most valuable asset 10
- The physician's minutes add up 11
- Examine the physician's non-clinical tasks 12
- Space is important factor in productivity 14
- Co-location and pods 16
- Maximizing your physician's time to increase patient volume 19
- Productive physicians are happier physicians
(and so are their patients) 21
- Not all change is good 22
- Strategic considerations 23
- Advanced Concept: Average value of a customer (AVC) 23
- Advanced Concept: New physicians 27
- Advanced Concept: Going solo 30

Chapter 3. Telephones 33

- Learn to handle telephones; or they will handle you! 34
- The telephone is your friend, honest! 34
- Telephone demand is what you make it 34
- Inefficient telephones cost money 35
- Tracking call volumes 39

Track inbound calls first	40
Mystery patient survey	45
Outbound calls can be time wasters	48
Stop playing "pass the caller"	48
Avoid unnecessary repeat calls	49
Scheduling: Decentralize it	49
Checkout: The place to schedule all follow-up visits	50
Rescheduling: Learn how to say "no"	51
Reminders can reduce telephone demand	51
Let schedulers schedule	52
Prescriptions	52
Manage patient-to-physician calls better	54
Follow-up calls	54
Take messages that stick	54
Managing test results	55
Reduce unnecessary clinical calls	57
What time is your callback?	60
Billing and referrals	61
Anticipate general information requests	61
Unnecessary calls	61
Reduce the rework	62
Technology and telephones	66
Voice mail	70
Auto attendants	73
Automatic call distributors	76
Telephony applications	77
Don't let your telephone system compromise
patient confidentiality	80
Staffing your telephones	81
A final word on telephone management	83
Advanced Concept: HIPAA and your telephone	84

Chapter 4. Scheduling 87

- Scheduling: The key to better patient flow 88
- Scheduling practices impact administrative and clinical performance 88
 - Simpler scheduling 91
 - Modified wave 93
 - Access 93
 - Same-day appointments 96
 - Advanced access 98
 - Advanced access principles 100
 - Monitoring advanced access 109
 - Delegate scheduling duties DOWN ... 111
 - ... Or delegate scheduling duties UP 111
 - Doctor, may I schedule this patient? 111
 - Free your template hostages 112
 - Emergency calls 113
 - Scheduling gaps should spur staff shifts 114
 - Use better scheduling to contain facility cost 117
 - Give the patient a heads up 120
 - Smoother communication smoothes schedule delays 120
 - No-shows happen for a reason 121
 - Managing no-shows 122
 - More on charging for no-shows 127
 - Physicians can be no-shows too 128
 - Surgery scheduling 130
 - Keep track of surgery scheduling 132
 - Appointment recalls 134
 - Advanced Concept: Preappointment screening 135
 - Advanced Concept: Physician supply and patient demand 136
 - Advanced Concept: Group visits 139
 - Advanced Concept: Express clinics 143

Chapter 5. Registration 147

- “The patient has arrived! Now what?” 149
- Don't make registration a source of pain 149
- Take another view of registration 151
- Pre-registration 152
- Register patients when they call for appointments 152
- Transfer patients to a “pre-registration unit” 153
- Call patients back to complete pre-registration over the telephone 155
- Use better technology to pre-register patients 155
- Insurance verification can ensure payment 156
- Registration 159
- Greeting the patient 159
- On-site registration of new patients 160
- On-site registration of established patients 161
- Registration forms 162
- Necessary signatures 163
- The sign-in list 170
- Communicating the patient's arrival 171
- Advanced Concept: Exam room registration 175

Chapter 6. Waiting 179

- The waiting process 180
- Do you know your practice's average wait time? 180
- Cycle time 181
- How to make the wait go faster 183
- Can you eliminate waiting? 189
- Other tips for the reception area 190
- Advanced Concept: Calculating wait time 191

Chapter 7. The Patient Encounter 195

- The actual encounter 196
- Make the most of the physician's time during the patient visit 196
- How much does your physician's time cost? 196
- Stop all that batching 198

- A virtual exam room 199
- Pre-visit planning 201
- When the physician waits 204
- Rooming standards 206
- The efficient physician's primer 207
- Inefficiency: A vicious spiral 209
- Quality, not quantity is the key to a successful visit 210
- Reach out to patients now, not later 213
- Improve patients' retention of information 214
- Handling the "oh, by the ways" 215
- Medical schools getting on the communications bandwagon ... finally 217
- The physician sets the tone 218
- Advanced Concept: Operations gap analysis 219
- Advanced Concept: The patient as co-producer 220

Chapter 8. Checkout 223

- Save time and money at the end of the patient flow process 225
- Smooth checkout saves time on the telephone 225
- Charge entry 226
- Two ways to handle charge tickets at checkout 226
- Follow-up scheduling 227
- Outbound referrals and ancillaries 228
- Test results 233
- Collection of payments 236
- Educational materials 237
- Prescriptions 237
- Document encounters in real time 237
- De-centralize checkout and use care teams 239

Chapter 9. Technology 241

- Technology offers bold innovation, but be careful to avoid obstacles 242
- The practice management system 242
- The Internet 244
- Document management 246
- Personal digital assistants 248
- Electronic medical records 250
- Preparing your practice 254
- Seven easy ways to make a technology purchase 255
- Use technology to get results 257
- New generation of users 260

Chapter 10. Fundamental Financials 261

- The fundamental financials 263
- Fixed cost: Get to know it and how to measure it 264
- Variable costs 265
- Using total practice cost 266
- What's your volume/cost break-even point? 270
- How many patients needed to support physician income? 271
- Expenses: The bottom line 274
- Lowering fixed costs to break-even at lower volume 274
- Advanced Concept: 25 ways to cut costs 276

Chapter 11. Summing Up 281

Additional Resources 283

Index 287